

FRIENDSHIP

I can be a kind friend. Sometimes, it can be hard to share my friends with others.

When I am playing with a friend, I can listen to what they need. I can take turns with them and play new games. I can give friends compliments.

I can play with more than one friend at a time.
Sometimes, games are more fun with 3 or 4 people.

I can choose to play with other friends, or I can choose to explore on my own and have space.

If I am not wanting to play with someone, then I can take control of my body and go draw a picture.

If I need something from a friend, I can use my words to say what I need. I can also ask a teacher.

If I have big feelings, I can talk with my teacher or parent.

We give compliments.
If we are concerned, we can talk to an adult.

Social stories explain social situations to children and help them learn ways of behaving in these situations. These stories are sometimes called social scripts, social narratives, or story-based interventions. Not for mass reproduction or sale. Download the PDF at brightsideup.org Bright Ideas.
